

NAKED SAILOR

After making a solid entry into the live scene in 2019, Naked Sailor are back to supply the party vibe with a slightly tweaked line-up and a repertoire for all ages.

From pub classics to contemporary bangers and much more - these chaps really know how to bring the energy when it's required and how to make your event one to remember. They love bringing the crowd into the performance as much as they can with singalongs and interactions to enrich the experience.

Jaxon: After picking up the guitar at around 16 years of age, Jaxon has never looked back and continues striving to be best version of his performing self. Learning different songs, trying different styles is a concept that he embraces.

James (Drummer): After starting drumming in his early teens (and even teaching) James founded his first rock band with Jaxon in school which was the start of both careers. An extremely adaptable and persistent workhorse on and off the stage as a performer AND Audio Tech makes for a handy new addition in Naked Sailor.

James (Bass): After watching his brothers learn how to play the right handed guitar, James was a left handed and taught himself how to play left handed upside down (Yep, like Hendrix) which is something the whole band still marvels at which is also how he plays bass. Picks harmonies with Jaxon effortlessly and breathes a strong reggae influence into Naked Sailor giving them ANOTHER prong for their shows.

Ben: Hailing from South Australia, Ben brings the strong Aussie Pub scene knowledge and his intimate love for improving every chance he gets. Ben loves bringing the flavours ranging from old and new favourites to show that every era in musical history has its rightful place and relevance.
